1 Killed, 3 Injured When Car Crashes Near Centerville

Mountain View Woman Dies In Accident At Machado's Corners

Mrs. Frieda Brunhofer, 63, wife of a Mountain View butcher, was almost instantly killed at Machado's Corners, north of Centerville, Saturday morning, when the car in which she was riding as a passenger crashed into a pole in an attempt to avoid a collision.

Three other occupants of the car were at once rushed to the Santa Clara county hospital in a serious condition. They are: Mrs. Edna Watkins, of Mountain View, a daughter of Mrs. Brunhofer; Miss Jeanette Watkins, a granddaughter, and a sister, Mrs. Claudine Byer, of San Jose. The accident is said to have occurred when the fifteen-year-old Miss Watkins, driving, turned to pass a car in front of her. The driver of the leading car, apparently failing to notice the Watkins machine, swung out simultaneously, forcing the Watkins girl off the road on the left side. The crash followed.

Mrs. Brunhofer, a native of Germany, had lived in Mountain View most of her life. She is survived by her husband and two sons. Mrs. Brunhofer was a member of the Hermina Rebekah lodge and the Mira Monte chapter, Order of Eastern Star. Funeral was Monday under auspices of the Eastern Star. The Chapel of Palms had charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Watkins and her daughter, and Mrs. Byers, are recovering. It was reported yesterday. Inquest on the death of Mrs. Brunhofer will be held at the office of Deputy Coroner F. F. Botelho tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock.

Co-ed Injured

Clothilde Brouchoud, 18, University of California co-ed, suffered a possible fracture of the skull Sunday when the car in which she was riding with Fred Kiesel, senior at the university, plunged from the road near Irvington.

Kiesel stated that his automobile had been forced off the road after it had been sideswiped by a truck. Kiesel was not injured, nor was James O'Connor, senior student, or Geraldine Galliani, sophomore. Miss Brouchoud was taken to the Cowell memorial hospital, on the university campus at Berkeley.

Mrs. James Watson plans to join her husband soon in Seattle. He was recently made secretary at the Pacific Veneer Company plant there.

Members of the De Guadalupe institute, Y. L. I., gathered at the I. O. O. F. hall in Niles last Thursday night for the official visit of Mrs. Loretta Kelly, grand president.

The evening was started with a program under the direction of Mrs. Marguerite Crane. Members of the Junior Institute participated. The Ukulele Club played several numbers, while others of the junior group sang. Little Jean Leonard, of Decoto, sang two numbers. Albert Silva played several numbers on the accordion. A candy sale, directed by Antonia Espinosa and Lucile Frates, netted the small salesmen a tidy sum.

Among other officers attending were: Grand Director Medeline Wallrath, past Grand President Charlotte Heritage, and the east bay district deputy, Mary Foss. #### DUCKS FIND HAVEN IN GRAVEL LAKES

Driven from the marshes by the week-end sallies of energetic hunters, flocks of ducks are finding haven in the quiet waters of the gravel ponds near Niles. Wheeling wedges of the wild birds have become a common sight around Niles. Unmolested, the ducks have lost all fear of automobiles and human beings, and like the flocks on Lake Merritt, dive and swim in the lake near the highway.

How the small bass fry, planted in the ponds by Lawrence Bunting, are faring in the invasion, is a matter of conjecture.

BANANAS GROWN SUCCESSFULLY AT IRVINGTON RANCH

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, or Central America, for that matter, have nothing on Washington township when it comes to successful culture of tropical fruits, after a survey of the district, here reveals a number of species flourishing far from their native climes.

Bananas, dozens of bananas, are maturing in a grove on the Joe Rose ranch at Irvington. One tree has nine dozen of the elongated fruit already turning yellow. Other trees have from five to six dozen in lesser degrees of ripeness. The fruit is full-size.

According to Mrs. Rose, the older trees have been bearing for four years. They average about twenty feet in height.

At Mission San Jose, known for its mildness of weather, avocados, or alligator pears, are flourishing on the Gallegos place. Although small, the pears are said to be of excellent flavor.

He is survived by five daughters—Mrs. Madeline Mendonca, of Sunol; Mrs. Mary Enos and Rose Lillian and Marjory Sarmiento, all of Warm Springs. He was a member in good standing of the Warm Springs lodge, U. P. E. C. and the Mission San Jose council of I. D. E. S.

Merriam, Hatfield Win In Heavy Poll Tuesday

CHAMBER SHELVES STREET CLEANING QUESTION MONDAY

No Action Possible For Time Being, Decision of Local Body

Niles street cleaning problem, a fly in the civic ointment for many weeks, has devolved upon the individual merchants in the town, following the Monday meeting of the chamber of commerce, at which it was decided to drop the matter completely for the time being.

The decision was reached when the street cleaning committee reported that nearly all of the local businessmen, with establishments on First street, had undertaken to keep their frontage of the street in good condition. It was pointed out that any plan, whereby a subscription would be taken up to defray expenses of a street-cleaner, would result in an increase in debris.

A plan to supply ash cans for street corners was abandoned.

Previous to the discussion of the First street problem, Harvey Braun, scout committee head, made a detailed report of the progress of the troop. He told of the forthcoming yacht trip for the boys, brought to pass through the courtesy of William H. Ford.

Following a short discussion at the meet, it was decided to hold the regular Thanksgiving banquet on Monday, November 26. R. B. Blacow, Dr. E. C. Grau and Dr. R. H. Bennett were named committeemen for the occasion. The civic group will not meet next Monday (Armistice Day) inasmuch as all local business houses will be closed.

Fred Foss, county official, was a guest at the meeting. He spoke a few words.

$54,000,000.00 In Bonds Given Oked At Polls Here

Washington township, consistent in bucking the new deal during past years, ran true to custom Tuesday and gave small majorities to all Republican candidates from governor down to state assemblyman.

Upton Sinclair, Democrat, lost to the Republican candidate, 1723 to 1272. Downey, Democrat, and Hatfield, Republican, ran close with 1772 for the latter, against Downey's 1402.

Frank C. Jordan polled 2877 votes as secretary of state.

Republican Johnson defeated Ward, Democrat, 1696 to 1269 for state treasurer.

William Knowland won the state senator race here against Kenneth Morie, 1526 to 1371.

For the assembly, Don Leidig polled 1532 votes to beat James Cassidy, Democrat. The latter received 1374 tallies.

In the county battle, Roger Coit beat Fred Foss, incumbent, 1896 to 1167.

In the vote on the propositions, Washington township helped to pass $54,000,000 worth of bonds with heavy "yes" votes on propositions 1 and 23. Proposition 2, allowing sale of liquor in eating places was passed 2070 to 638. Proposition 13 was repudiated 1984 to 395.

For returns by precincts, see unofficial tabulation on page seven in this issue.

In Alameda county at large, late returns last night had Merriam leading Sinclair 95,881 to 69,562.

Knowland was leading Morie for the state senate $6,661 to 79,908.

Cassidy, Democrat, was leading Leidig for the Thirteenth assembly district 10,985 to 7,287.

Daughter's Welfare Secondary to Politics with Sen. McAdoo

From Oroville Mercury

Anyone would hesitate to advise a United States senator how to handle his own daughter, yet it seems to many that William Gibbs McAdoo, good bridge builder and high class financial man though he is, might use better tactics on 19-year-old Helen, who wants to marry a movie actor twice her own age. Mr. McAdoo has had clerks all over this part of the country warned that their marriage probably would be illegal, has notified the girl that she would be disinherited and now has deprived her of the expensive car with which she has been taking her lover out riding. It all reads like a story book.

Maybe it is too late to reason with Helen. They should have started when she was eleven years old. One would think that a quiet family conference would serve better than ultimatums and communique. One would think, also, that in this family crisis the Hon. William G. would hurry home—or is there some greater mandate that must keep him out of the state until after election.

To be frank we don't worry so much about Mr. McAdoo and his affairs. It is disturbing, however, to think that the grand-daughter of so fine a man as Woodrow Wilson is in trouble. With divorced parents, and with her father absent on things of greater importance than his own daughter, the girl—19 and wilful, is apt to make a mistake that will blight her life.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

When the heat comes, thousands leave New York. They have many places to go. The seashore bungalow colonies are little cities in themselves. There are other summer cities up in the mountains. In addition, there are hundreds of lakes. In fact, the state of New York offers just about every variety of scenery, except desert, that a vacation lover may desire. Since that is true within commuting distance, during the summer many New Yorkers merely toil in town and sleep and play away from the lights of Broadway. But there are other thousands who cannot do that. For them the seashore is Coney Island, the mountains, the Palisades of New Jersey and the lakes more often than not, the basin of some fountain or maybe just a fireplug shower.

Those thousands, or rather I should say millions, do not live in sections of the city where there is some escape from the effects of the sun. Their dwellings are in the narrow streets of the tenement districts. Their homes are airless and oftentimes dark. For them, there is no escape from the heat. Nights, they crowd the roofs or the parks. Days, they get along as best they can. Often, mothers, to keep their babies from stifling, load them into perambulators and walk with them until the early morning hours afford some relief. It is wearisome, but babies must breathe. And after those all night rambles, the mothers do their housework and cook in kitchens some of which are equipped with coal or wood stoves. Those street showers are beaches of the tenement youngsters. They shout happily under the cool spray and carry on much like we used to do when we walked out to the old sycamore, peeled our clothes and enjoyed ourselves in the yellow Scoto. The youngsters of the slums can't go quite that far, however. But they go as far as they can, a single garment satisfying the conventions. Some, however, wear bathing suits. Asked a kid why he did and he replied, "Because it makes me feel like I'm out at Coney." And an old softy turned his head right quick!

Perhaps you've read about Ramon Millon. I think the Recording Angel placed a gold mark opposite Ramon Millon's name. The only money he has is his name, because he's been out of work a long time. He came out of his home on One Hundred and Eighth street and found a bunch of heat-exhausted kids trying to turn on a fire hydrant. They weren't strong enough, so Ramon Millon did it for them. He cooled off the kids. But he broke the law. While he still had the wrench in his hand along came a radio car and Ramon Millon was arrested.

Sudan Grass Will Provide Pasture

One Acre Supports Three or More Cows Until Frost; Crows Fast.

By Earl Jones, Extension Specialist in Agronomy, Ohio State University—WNU Service.

Sudan grass, brought to America from Africa, promises to earn a prominent place in agriculture. A dry weather crop, it furnishes pasture grass when the native blue grass succumbs to drought. One acre of the crop will support three or more cows until frost. It is ready for pasturing five to seven weeks after seeding.

Sudan grass can be depended upon for midsummer pasture for sheep and dairy cattle, and seed cost is not large.

It provides pasture during the season that blue grass is in its resting period. Early preparation of the seedbed has proved important, and a seeding should not be delayed longer than is necessary.

Only one serious criticism has been offered of sudan grass. It is sometimes difficult to obtain a perfect stand. This fault can be corrected by shallow covering of the seed, by breaking up the soil crusts before germination, and by using good seed. The grass makes a good growth on unproductive soils, and on rich soils attains a height of six or seven feet if allowed to go ungrazed.

Pasturing may be begun at 12 to 15 inches, a height attained usually five to seven weeks after seeding. Pasturing after frost is not recommended. Reports tell of cattle being poisoned by grazing on frosted sudan grass.

In addition to furnishing pasture, the plant also may be harvested for hay when waist high. It has about the same feeding value as good timothy, and presents no special curing problems.

The fertilizer treatment recommended consists of 150 to 200 pounds of a 2-12-6 or 4-12-4 on relatively poor soils at seeding time.

Sheep Industry Is Old

The sheep industry is very, very old. Sacred history tells us the shepherds and their flocks were "round about in the hills when Christ was born. The industry was very old in those days and a most important one. As time progressed and civilization spread to the west across Europe, the sheep population expanded. In all of the great wars of history the soldiers wore wool and ate meat. As the civilized nations grew in importance their sheep industry advanced.

Speaking of hot weather, happened to notice two men high up on a scaffold cleaning the front of an apartment house. Usually this is done with a sand blast, a gritty, hard job. But in this instance, with the mercury well up toward the top of the tube, live steam was being used!

Solving School Clothes Problems

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WHAT to wear "first the day at school" and the day after the day after and for months to come in the classroom—an ever important problem which the month of September never fails to present as it sings the swan-song of happy vacation time. To dotting mothers and others whose responsibility it is to see that the children of the household go suitably and modestly appareled to school, the message in regard to juvenile fashions according to early fall showings is sure to prove nothing less than inspirational. That designers are giving so much of their best efforts to create attractive, at the same time practical styles for little folks ought to be a very encouraging sign for future costuming.

The trio of cunning models pictured tell a fascinating story of early fall juvenile style trends. These charming fashions were selected for illustration from among a host of equally attractive outfits for youngsters as displayed in recent style shows held by the Chicago Wholesale Market council. The young miss standing to the left in the picture shows how really style-wise a little girl of this day and generation can be in that she is wearing a frock of green wool crepe, and green as the color card tells us is a leader this season, especially dark mossy greens. Then, too, interest in crepe weaves is very apparent in the fabric realm. Being jumper style, this dress is ideal for school wear, for the little maiden can enjoy a fresh blouse each day if she so chooses.

Again brother and sister outfits are proving of tremendous appeal and in this connection it is interesting to note that the two-sister theme is also being advocated, in which costumes showing duplication of color and pattern are sized to fit little girls of different ages. In the instance of the brother and sister outfits pictured, plaid in a gay new cotton weave will go off to school in a manner to delight every eye that beholds this adorable two-some. The contrast of plain with print is effectively emphasized.

Speaking generally of style items stressed at these recent previews of children's fashions one is impressed with the radical color departure in little folks' costumes. Instead of the dainty childish colors usually associated with the juvenile world, little girls are now adopting the greens, browns and reds of their older sisters with of course a continued use of dark blue.

Also it is noted that plaids identify an increasing number of frocks this fall, taking from the formerly favored floral prints considerable of their glory. One clever frock in the style parade looks like a genuine Scotch costume with its red plaid pleated skirt and navy bolero over a white blouse. Frocks of unusual interest also feature the use of three and even four colors.

As to the important fabrics it is significant that woolsens are proving a strong factor. Wool crepes and novelties lead, while even the cottons take on a wool-like texture.

Soys for Breeding Swine

While the feeding of soy beans to fattening hogs results in soft pork, beans may be satisfactorily fed to brood sows during gestation. A mineral mixture should always be supplied with the beans, because they are deficient in minerals, as is also corn. Unless the sows are to be sold soon after the pigs are weaned, soy beans may also be fed during part of the suckling period, though at that time they should be mixed with tankage to the extent of about one-third. If the sows are to be fattened after the pigs are weaned, tankage or some protein concentrate mixture should be used as a supplement.—Wallaces' Farmer.

Protect Honey Bees

The production of honey can be increased by giving careful attention to the location of hives. They should be located on a south slope or otherwise protected from the prevailing winds. They should be so situated that the sun can shine on them early in the morning so that the hive will warm up and the bees will have an advantage by getting the first supply of nectar. Shade should be provided, however, during the middle of the day when the sun is hottest.—Missouri Farmer.

The Sugarcane Crop

The great hazard in growing sugarcane in this country is an early frost. Harvesting a sugarcane crop is always a race against time, since present varieties must have approximately nine months between the last spring frost and the first frost of winter. A cross developed in India is said to mature in six months, which is approximately the goal of experiments here. Juice of the India cross is reported to be high in sugar and low in impurities.

HUSKERS WIN MUD- FEST LAST FRIDAY AT PLEASANTON 26-0

Play Livermore Boys For Championship Tomorrow

Tractor-hauled plows, quantities of water and eleven Amador football players managed to hold the Washington Huskers to an unsatisfactory 26 to 0 victory over Pleasanton High school last Friday, in a mud-slinging football game played on the newly cultivated Pleasanton field.

According to spectators, the Washington team was greatly handicapped by the soggy ground. Reverses, which have clicked for hundreds of yards on fast fields, were impossible. Kicking, with the ball soaking wet, was unsatisfactory.

Coach Jess Regli, Centerville's able mentor, stated emphatically that the wet field slowed his aggregation down about 50 points.

In spite of the sea of mud, the Huskers gained a total of 363 yards from scrimmage and passes. The total gained from passes was 89, mostly gained with a vicious little toss from Medeiros to Muniz. The last two Husker scores were made by Muniz after taking Medeiros' heaves. The Huskers scored twice in the first quarter, once in the third and once in the fourth. Muniz accounted for three of the tallies, Medeiros for one. The latter converted twice.

Muniz, who is beginning to attract the attention of nearby college scouts, lugged the ball thirty times for a total of 211 yards. Medeiros made 19 yards in seven tries, and Ed. Rose averaged eleven yards a play for four times.

The longest run of the day was a 50-yard scamper to the second score in the first quarter, made by Al Muniz.

Tomorrow afternoon the Huskers will travel to Livermore to meet the Cowboys in the final and deciding game of the league play. Coach Fisher's aggregation are pointing for the Huskers and some hard football will be played, regardless of the result.

PEACE DISTURBERS GET SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Canuto Flores and Jesse Rodarte, arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace recently, have been released following a suspension of sentence asked by Manuel Keyes, who brought the original charge. Rodarte and Flores were alleged to have driven their car in to the Keyes property, and to have demolished a rabbit hutch.

After the two men had been found guilty, Keyes asked that the sentence be suspended. He is said to have stated that the damage was not great, and that he thought that the men had borne him no malice.

PACKED HOUSE SEES HIGH SCHOOL PLAY FRIDAY EVENING

Playing before a packed house at Washington Union High school Friday night, a well-directed and talented cast made a huge success of "The Whole Town's Talking," the first student body production of the 1934-35 school year. More than 600 people, eager and appreciative, acclaimed the three-act comedy best to date.

The farcical story of intricacies following parental meddling in the affairs of their daughter was admirably suited to the abilities of the amateur players. With credit to Miss Sibyl Botelho, director, it was noted that the parts were carefully chosen, the lines thoroughly drilled and the dialogue smooth. As far as the audience could make out, prompting was entirely unnecessary. One minor lapse was quickly smoothed over by the cast in professional style.

Of all the players, Harry Cesari, in the role of a somewhat stuffy businessman whose vanity is awakened, turned in the most outstanding performance. Emanuel Maciel, as the meddling father whose fantastic schemes cause all the trouble, was excellent. Just plump enough to give a realistic impression of maturity, Ramona Mello was a perfect Mrs. Simmons. Margaret Wells, as the daughter, was just light enough to grieve her Chicago and Paris lover (Lawrence Gonzales) beyond words. Betty Robinson, tall, and blond, was ravishing as Letty Lythe, the movie actress who thickens the plot. Donald Swift, her jealous finance, seethed with restrained violence. Swift was portrayed by Walter Rose. Katherine Rathbone and Inez McNally were typical provincial maidens, agog at scandal, or the hint of it. Alton Jennings, as the taxi-driver, and Edith Menneze as the maid, rang true in their parts. Edna King, as Sadie Bloom, somewhat of an adventuress, was outstanding.

The stage set was modulated and complete, with professional lighting effects. As stage manager, Morgan Cesari is to be commended, members of the audience were heard to say, Bernice Bernardo, Robert Kibby and Marylin Maciel were the other members of the production staff.

Salvador Belleci and the high school orchestra rendered the musical program.

Why Children Need a Liquid Laxative

The temporary relief children get from unwise dosing with harsh cathartics may cause bowel strain, and even set-up irritation in the kidneys. A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a more natural movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to give the child "a double dose" a day or two later.

Can constipation be safely relieved in children? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say many mothers who have followed this sensible medical advice: 1. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Give the dose you find suited to the system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose, if repeated, until the bowels are moving naturally without aid.

An approved liquid laxative (one that is widely used for children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The mild laxative action of this excellent preparation is the best form of help for children—and grown-ups too. The dose can be regulated for any age or need.

Your druggist sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

APPLE MENUS TAKE FAMILY FANCY TODAY

The apple of the family eye this year has taken on several new shapes and uses, according to Julia Lee Wright, director of the Homemakers' Bureau of Safeway Stores, says Jack Nobrega, manager of the local branch. Mrs. Wright has just completed an article entitled, "Psyching the Apple," for a national magazine.

Transparent applesauce, says Mrs. Wright, is one of the new delights. It's made quite simply, she says, by placing peeled and sliced apples (any good cooking variety) in a saucepan and adding just enough water so you can see it down through the slices, and then putting the sugar on top. Don't stir, but cover and let cook slowly. The sugar seems to penetrate through the apples, leaving them tasty, clear and appetizing.

Baked applesauce is another new dish which has become quite the rage. It can be made by arranging fairly thick slices of cooking apples, either peeled or unpeeled, in a shallow baking pan. Then pour in just enough water to keep the apples from burning, sprinkle with brown or white sugar and spice. Bake this mixture in a moderate oven, and, say the epicures, the fondest hopes of apple perfection have come to pass.

For real glazed apples such as you see in restaurant windows, Mrs. Wright suggests the following recipe: Peel the apples about half way down, arrange in a pan or casserole that can be covered fairly tight, add a cupful or so of water, put the cover in place and bake until almost tender; then uncover and either slip the apples quite far down below the broiler, or simply use a very hot oven and baste the apples uncovered with a syrup made from equal parts of sugar and water, boiled until thick. When they are glazed and brown enough to suit the taste of a connoisseur, serve hot or cold. Mrs. Wright has also prepared a score of other new and interesting recipes, which will be available locally at the Safeway store during the company's huge producer apple campaign.

Irradiation Improves Milk

Among the newest methods of treating milk to improve its quality irradiation by violet rays is gaining favor. According to work done at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, milk thus treated has a slightly lower bacterial count and lower acidity than ordinary whole milk. It was found at refrigerator temperatures irradiated milk will keep several hours longer than whole milk not so treated. This added keeping quality is partly due to a very slight reduction in the development of acidity of the milk after irradiation.

Do They Borrow Your Collection Of Circular Letters?

HAVE YOUR neighbors ever dropped into your home to borrow the weekly collection of circular letters that the users think are as good as advertising in a country newspaper?

Few people realize the actual coverage of even the modest country newspaper. Not long ago an advertising expert is quoted as saying that careful research had ascertained that a certain well known metropolitan paper is read, an average, for the space of twenty minutes, while the average country newspaper has a "reading life" of three hours to its credit! It is kept around the house for a week and everyone in the family takes his turn in going through its pages. And its readers are really increased for the reason that oftentimes the paper is borrowed by those not fortunate to be a subscriber.

There is nothing in the way of an advertising medium that circulates in Washington Township that is as persistently read and digested as regularly and thoroughly as the Township Register.

Auto Fatalities On Increase, Says Agent

At the rate that automobile fatalities are occurring in the United States this year, there is every indication that more than 35,000 men, women and children will be killed in accidents, states Mrs. James R. Whipple, National Automobile Club representative here. The National Safety Council, which compiles complete statistics on the subject, reports 17,860 motor vehicle deaths for the first seven months of this year. For the same period in 1933 there were 15,030 fatalities. "To properly grasp the significance of this tremendous sacrifice of life," says Mrs. Whipple, "consider that the 1934 human toll is likely to correspond to the wiping out of an entire city the size of Alameda."

The principal answer to the problem is "drive sanely."

BENEFIT BASEBALL GAME TO ATTRACT MANY FANS

Perhaps the greatest baseball revival of all time in Washington township will be a special dish for local fans, when the "Old Timers" meet the Newark J and F's at the Newark Grammar school grounds on Armistice Day, November 12. The game is scheduled to begin at 2:00 p. m.

With proceeds to go to the Newark Bluebird Club for that organization's annual Christmas tree, the contest bids fair to draw a record attendance.

Old time baseball stars throughout the township are to be seen shaking the moths out of faded uniforms and oiling up old gloves in preparation for the fray.

Among the old times will be "Shine" Silva, whose assignment will be to whip his fatal spit ball from the mound. On the receiving end will be "Pop" Jacinto a past master at drying off the ball before the umpire sees the slippery elm. Grandpop Fred Muller will be on the coaching line watching the big league antics of his grandson, Fred Muller, New York Yankee star, on short.

Given for the purpose of brightening the Christmas season for many township children, the benefit game merits the attendance of all in the district.

FORMER FIRST LADY GUEST OF COUNTRY CLUB AT PROGRAM

Mrs. Herbert Hoover Is Entertainment Tuesday Afternoon

More than 125 members and guests of the Country club of Washington township gathered at the club house in Centerville Tuesday afternoon for one of the most outstanding programs ever sponsored by the women's organization.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the former president, was guest of honor for the day. She was introduced to the assemblage and spoke briefly. The group was charmed with the courtesy of the former first lady.

Mrs. Albert E. Carter was the main speaker. She gave a vivid account of life in the national capital, with intimate glimpses into the social world of the diplomats and their wives. Her talk was entitled "Our National Capital."

An appropriate program, under the direction of Mrs. George Coit was one of the highlights of the afternoon. Three tableaux were presented, representing former first ladies. The background was colorful and appropriate. Mrs. E. B. Hodges portrayed Martha Washington; Mrs. Thomas Maloney was Dolly Madison, and Mrs. C. E. Anderson took the part of Mary Lincoln. Miss Dorothy Ormsby, accompanied by her sister, Miss Arwina Ormsby, sang "The Lass With the Delicate Air". Miss Ormsby was garbed in a dress worn by her great-grandmother, trimmed with lace worn decades ago by her great-great-grandmother. Her song will be remembered long by those who heard it.

Tea was served during the afternoon by music committee and the board. Mrs. F. T. Dusterberry, Miss Nancy McKeown and Mrs. E. A. Ormsby poured.

Hostesses for the day were: Mrs. Howard Chadbourne, Mrs. F. V. Jones, and the Misses Flora McKeown, Mary and Floribelle Brown. The decorating committee and the California nursery, both were thanked for their success in making the club house outstandingly attractive for the day.

Three new members: Mrs. A. J. Petsche, Mrs. Paul Pitman and Mrs. Henry Dusterberry, were present.

The name of Mrs. John Lowman was suggested for membership.

A subscription of $10 was taken for the Veteran's Christmas Fund.
